Applications of Extended Reality in Health Care

Webinar details

Extended reality (XR) is an overarching term that captures current and future developments across augmented reality, mixed reality and virtual reality. These tools are rapidly expanding in many health care environments, including helping to train surgeons on the latest procedures and teach medical students' human anatomy.

URL: https://www.ama-assn.org/about/events/applications-extended-reality-health-care
Copyright 1995 - 2021 American Medical Association. All rights reserved.
Join this webinar to learn more about the current state of extended reality in health care and explore real-world use cases of VR and AR technology today.

Speakers

- Nam Jin Kim, MD, medical director, Hospital Israelita Albert Einstein
- Frank Sculli, cofounder & CEO, BioDigital, Inc
- Mark Zhang, MD, medical director, Brigham Digital Innovation Hub

Register

Register today.

Learn more about the AMA’s Future of Health Immersion program and how to get involved.

URL: https://www.ama-assn.org/about/events/applications-extended-reality-health-care

Copyright 1995 - 2021 American Medical Association. All rights reserved.