

Senior Physicians Section (SPS) membership benefits

Join the nearly 61,000 members of the AMA Senior Physicians Section (SPS) and remain active and involved in the AMA medical community. The SPS is the largest senior physician group in the United States.

Any AMA physician 65 years of age and above is an automatic member of the Senior Physicians Section, whether working full time, part time or fully retired.

Volunteer opportunities

- View the latest volunteer opportunities for senior physicians in the JAMA CareerCenter®.
- Read why volunteering is important for physicians (PDF).
- Access the ethical conduct for Humanitarian Medical Missions (PDF).

Physician re-entry

Interested in returning to practice? The AMA has developed re-entry resources that can help get you started. Learn the facts about health system reform, and review the latest developments in the AMA's advocacy efforts.