

Carol Vargo, MHS, discusses keeping your practice open during COVID-19

---

On Nov. 12, 2020, the AMA held a webinar in the AMA STEPS Forward™ series: "Keeping Your Practice Open During COVID-19."

As physicians work to keep open their practices during the COVID-19 pandemic, measures to limit the spread of the SARS-CoV-2 virus to patients, caregivers, staff and themselves to ensure the safe delivery of needed care are critical. Building upon and referencing CDC guidance, the American Medical Association has developed a checklist to ensure that medical practices are well-situated to remain open.

Webinar recording

Speaker

Carol Vargo, MHS

Director of practice sustainability, American Medical Association

Speaker bio

Ms. Vargo is the director of physician practice sustainability in the AMA Physician Satisfaction and Practice Sustainability Strategic Initiative Group. She directs AMA strategies to support sustainable physician payment and delivery reforms and directs external partnerships with hospitals, health systems, health plans, employers, patients and other key stakeholders to advance implementation and adoption of new value-based models.