Kevin Taylor, MD, discusses organizational culture and physician well-being
On Dec. 3, 2020, the AMA held a webinar in the AMA STEPS Forward™ series: "Organizational Culture and Physician Well-being."

Learn the key physician leadership behaviors that will improve their team’s satisfaction at work and explore active inquiry tools to assist in engaging your physician colleagues to decrease emotional exhaustion and burnout.

Webinar recording

Speaker

Kevin Taylor, MD

Medical director, IHA Primary Care and Geriatric Services, Towsley Health Center

Speaker bio

Dr. Taylor is a primary care internal medicine physician with a broad experience as a physician leader and is currently the medical director for the IHA Primary Care and Geriatric Services at the Towsley Health Center in Ann Arbor Michigan. Dr. Taylor is a certified change practitioner and executive coach who recently served as the organizational transformation director for the Professional Satisfaction and Practice Sustainability Department at the American Medical Association.

Copyright 1995 - 2021 American Medical Association. All rights reserved.