Telehealth Immersion Program: 2021 events

Measuring the value of virtual care panel discussion

Description: The explosion of telehealth throughout the COVID-19 pandemic has exacerbated the need to assess the impact of telehealth to ensure continued access for patients and physicians. Join this virtual discussion to learn more about the AMA Return on Health (ROH) research, discuss the framework and how to use it and talk with experts from across the industry about how they are measuring the value of virtual care in their own environments.

Join the discussion on the Physician Innovation Network.

Implementing innovative solutions with an equity lens

August 10, 2021, 1-2 p.m. Eastern

Description: This webinar will outline best practices for implementing new health care technologies—including telehealth—in practice in an equitable, inclusive way focusing on both the impact to marginalized and minoritized patients and the clinicians and systems that care for them.

Register now.

Clinical Case Study: Telehealth for Primary Care

September 14, 2021, 12–1:30 p.m. Eastern

Description: This interactive session will provide participants with an overview of techniques for delivering primary care via telehealth and remote patient monitoring.

Register now.

URL: https://www.ama-assn.org/practice-management/digital/telehealth-immersion-program-2021-events
Copyright 1995 - 2021 American Medical Association. All rights reserved.
AMA Telehealth Immersion Program mini-boot camp event

In collaboration with Telehealth Awareness Week

Sept. 25, 2021, 10 a.m.–12:30 p.m. Eastern

Description: As part of the Telehealth Immersion Program, the AMA will host a mini-boot camp to wrap up the American Telehealth Association (ATA) Telehealth Awareness Week and provide an opportunity for participants to do deep-dive break-out sessions across various medical specialties. This event is designed to engage various stakeholders to support long-term sustainable telehealth programs across the industry.

Register now.

Registration for additional fall and winter sessions coming soon.