

This holiday season, set them up for med school success

An AMA membership can help your med student succeed, with benefits, resources and experiences med school doesn't offer.

- The AMA Medical Student Learning Leadership Series helps medical students learn to lead effectively through 20-minute, interactive modules
- AMA Research Challenge gives students the opportunity to enter the largest national, multi-specialty research event for medical students, residents and fellows, and International Medical Graduates
- Student COVID-19 Resources provide the latest COVID-19 news, mental health support and more— helping students balance their med school stress and safety concerns to stay informed and protected
- AMA Advocacy and Student Member Sections give students a voice in how we shape the future of medicine and medical policy—watch this short video to see how a group of students made an impact
- Making the Rounds podcast lets students—or their family and friends—hear stories and advice about residency from those who have been through it
