

Your trusted voice, your powerful ally, your AMA

The AMA believes when it comes to health care, physicians' voices should be the loudest in the room—and we make it happen every day.

As your powerful ally, we remain focused on championing science and rising above the noise by amplifying physicians' voices in critical conversations on the Hill, fighting misinformation, protecting patient's access to care and having your back as the COVID-19 pandemic evolves.

Our patients need us now more than ever. Join the AMA and learn more about how we're aggressively advocating on behalf of physicians, residents and medical students. No matter what lies ahead, we're in your corner.

Watch to learn more about how the AMA is amplifying physician voices.
