The AMA and CDC’s Project Firstline teams are committed to providing frontline physicians with timely, evidence-based infection control information and educational opportunities.

Join host Susan R. Bailey, MD, AMA immediate past president, and other physician leaders for a special, multi-session event, "COVID-19 and Beyond: Explore Infection Control and Ethics."

This is the last session of the series on infection control and ethics.

Physicians will participate in three virtual, interactive sessions with other physicians to analyze and discuss infection and prevention control (IPC) case studies, gain new insights and apply this knowledge within physicians’ practices.
