

Competency-based assessment across the medical education continuum

---

Competency-based medical education (CBME) requires a vigorous and multidimensional assessment system. To successfully implement CBME, assessment processes must be continuous and frequent, criterion-based, developmental and work-based where possible.

As competency-based medical education emerges as the predominant educational paradigm, more collaborative approaches to address the challenges in assessment, and defining best practices are needed. Learn more at the Innovations in Medical Education webinar, “Competency-based assessment across the medical education continuum.”When

Monday, Sept. 19, 2022, 3-4 p.m. Central

Register to watch this recording on-demand.

Download the webinar slides (PDF).