The World Health Organization has declared the global monkeypox virus (MPV) outbreak a public health emergency of international concern. Stay informed with the latest MPV updates from the AMA.

Featured updates

- Oct. 6: CDC COCA Call: Situational Update for Clinicians about Severe Monkeypox Virus Infections
- Sept. 29: CDC HAN Health Advisory: Severe Manifestations of Monkeypox among People who are Immunocompromised Due to HIV or Other Conditions
- Aug. 11: CDC COCA Call: Interim Clinical Considerations for Monkeypox Vaccination
- Aug. 8: FDA news release: FDA authorizes emergency use of JYNNEOS vaccine.
- July 27: Letter from CDC Director Rochelle Walensky, MD: Pain emerging as major issue with monkeypox infection; basic tools for managing the infection (PDF)

Clinical information and resources

Find FAQs for physicians—including MPV testing and therapeutics—CDC guidance, CPT coding and more. Track the trends of cases reported to CDC.

Video updates with AMA and CDC experts

What physicians need to know about tecovirimat ("TPOXX") for treatment of Monkeypox

Experts from the AMA, FDA and CDC discuss tecovirimat, or TPOXX, for the treatment of monkeypox in infected individuals.
The facts about monkeypox with CDC experts

In this July 14, 2022, Moving Medicine video update, two experts from the CDC’s Division of High-Consequence Pathogens & Pathology, Caroline Schrodt, MD, and Jennifer McQuiston, DVM, share facts on MPV.