

FDA-AMA elective rotation program

The Food and Drug Administration's (FDA's) Professional Affairs and Stakeholder Engagement (PASE) at the Center for Drug Evaluation and Research (CDER) is offering a four-week elective rotation for one AMA medical student. During the rotation, the interns are assigned to a preceptor, a medical officer at CDER, and work directly with their preceptor on issues related to drug development, drug review and drug safety.

They also can learn about FDA's regulatory activities and its role in enhancing collaboration with health care professionals, patients and patient advocacy groups. The selected applicant will receive a stipend from the AMA as well as an opportunity to meet with AMA staff at the D.C. office.
