Whereas, There are increasing numbers of health insurance plans that do not adequately compensate physicians for their services, including Medicaid, Medicare and many private insurance plans; and

Whereas, Adequate insurance compensation is necessary for the continued independent practice of medicine; and

Whereas, Hospitals and other groups providing medical goods and services would never accept insurances that do not adequately compensate their services and products; therefore be it

RESOLVED. That our American Medical Association advocate for insurance plans to adequately compensate physicians so that they are able to remain in practice independent of hospital employment. (Directive to Take Action)
