Statement of Interest

Speaker is a unique role in policy making, similar to running the room of an emergency department. The first time I took the stage as the Vice Speaker and lead parliamentary procedure to discuss a resolution, it felt similar to the first time I ran my own code. Awkward, excited, and maintaining my inner confidence while also picking up all of the small style points, I missed and did not appreciate before being at the podium. In this past year, I have had the privilege to learn the role of speaker and have worked with the Governing Council to serve our RFS. I desire to become your next Speaker because I am passionate about shaping the future of medicine through organized medicine and systems-based work. Within the American Medical Association, I am currently serving as a delegate sponsored by the Illinois State Medical Society. Previously I have been a delegate with MSSNY and have chaired various standing and reference committees.

As Speaker of the RFS I aim to welcome our new and returning members with the goal to create a friendly and effective parli-pro setting. I will organize our future seminars, guest speakers, and members into our Interim and Annual meeting agendas in ways that allow us to be efficient with our limited time together. As your speaker, I want the chance to guide and create health policy with you all, and carry on the legacy of the current GC. Let's run this meeting together. Thank you immensely for your consideration and vote for AMA-RFS Speaker!

Diversity Statement

Similar to many in our AMA-RFS, I bring the diversity of being a first generation american with both of my parents immigrating to the United States from Lebanon. Growing up in upstate New York, very few of my friends looked like me. Through my career, I have had the privilege of traveling and living in various cities across the country, most of which have been much more diverse than my hometown. My experiences have allowed me to assimilate to multiple different cultures and traditions as a result I feel comfortable bringing and celebrating inclusivity with my peers. In 2018, I was awarded the Diversity and Inclusion award by my medical school for my efforts I drove forward. I aim to continue that mindset as your Speaker.
