

Logan Bassoff

Education

M.D. Candidate, Class of 2026, Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL 2022-2026
B.S. in Applied Physiology and Kinesiology Cum Laude, University of Florida, Gainesville, FL 2016-2020

Professional Experience

Research Assistant January 2020-August 2020
Malcolm Randall VA Medical Center
Gainesville, FL

- Conducted experiments to explore vagal nerve activity through stimulation
- Analyzed EMG and MRI data
- This was a full-time internship between January and March 2020

Medical Scribe November 2020-May 2022
Scribe America

- Worked alongside physicians to transcribe patient charts
- Assisted with fundamental patient care

Sport Programs Supervisor August 2019-May 2021
University of Florida
Gainesville, FL

- Oversaw participants and referees during intramural games and sports club events
- Maintained safe environments for all participants

Gymnastics Coach April 2018-August 2020
Balance 180
Gainesville, FL

- Worked with children of all skill levels and abilities

Certification and Licensure

BLS certification November 2022

Professional Memberships and Activities

FSUCOM interview student panel January 2023-present
Surgery and Anesthesiology Interest Group, Treasurer December 2022-present
American Medical Association, Recruitment Chair
Medical Education and Respect for Life Organization, Vice President
Big Bend Buddies Volunteering August 2022-present

Publications

Amundson, M., Bassoff, L., Easterling, C. The utilization of negative pressure wound vacs in the treatment of oro-cutaneous fistulas secondary to mandibular trauma. A case series and review of the literature.

In progress

Loper, H., Leinen, M., Bassoff, L. et al. Both high fat and high carbohydrate diets impair vagus nerve signaling of satiety. Sci Rep 11, 10394 (2021). <https://doi.org/10.1038/s41598-021-89465-0>