Without an inflation-based update, the gap between frozen physician payment rates and rising inflation in medical practice costs will widen considerably.

Most key measures of practice expense in the Medicare Economic Index accelerated in 2021