

**Michael Anthony DellaVecchia, M D PhD: A Leader in Medicine and Research****

Dr. Michael Anthony DellaVecchia, an accomplished physician and researcher, stands as a beacon of excellence and leadership in the medical community. With a diverse background spanning multiple disciplines, Dr. DellaVecchia has made significant contributions to both clinical practice and scientific innovation. His extensive involvement in professional societies, academic institutions, and community service reflects his unwavering commitment to advancing healthcare and advocating for the profession and patients on local, national, and international levels.

**Professional Achievements****

Dr. DellaVecchia's career includes serving as the former director of the Wills Eye Emergency Department at Thomas Jefferson University, Hospital, the 154th President of the Philadelphia County Medical Society and the 171st President of the Pennsylvania Medical Society. He has been deeply involved in various medical societies, including the American College of Surgeons, where he served as the President of the Metropolitan Philadelphia Chapter and as a Governor of the national American College of Surgeons. He has been an alternate/delegate with the American Medical Association since 2007 and has served on reference and coalition committees including the Election Committee and the Executive Council of the Senior Physician Section.

**Educational Background****

Dr. DellaVecchia's journey began with a strong foundation in the sciences, earning a B.A. in Physics with a minor in Mathematics from LaSalle University. He furthered his academic pursuits with an M.S. and Ph.D. in Biomedical Engineering /Physics from Drexel University, focusing on groundbreaking research in electrophysical properties of leukocytes and cellular responses. He completed his medical education at Temple University School of Medicine, followed by residencies in anatomical pathology, clinical pathology, and ophthalmology.

**Research and Innovation****

As a prolific researcher, Dr. DellaVecchia has authored numerous articles and holds several United States patents in medical instrumentation and photonics. His pioneering work in areas such as dynamic light scattering and adaptive optics has paved the way for advancements in ophthalmic diagnostics and surgical techniques. His contributions have been recognized internationally, with invitations to lecture and present at prestigious conferences and institutions worldwide.

**Community Engagement****

Beyond his professional achievements, Dr. DellaVecchia remains dedicated to community service, volunteering his time and expertise to community health, veterans groups, union and employee healthcare initiatives, and international medical missions.

Additionally, his contributions to public health extend to his participation in the Mayor's Opioid Task Force of the City of Philadelphia, volunteering for a tour of service with Project Orbis, an international flying teaching hospital dedicated to preventing blindness and restoring sight through hands-on training for eye care.

He is presently devoting efforts to equip and establish a clinic in Nigeria with the Just Heart Help institution. He has been a longstanding member of the Public Health Section of the College of Physicians of Philadelphia where he also served on the Board of Trustees for a full term.

**Conclusion****

In summary, Dr. Michael Anthony DellaVecchia exemplifies leadership, excellence, and dedication in medicine. His vast accomplishments across clinical practice, research, education, and community service underscore his unwavering commitment to improving healthcare outcomes and advancing the field of medicine. Dr. DellaVecchia's visionary leadership and innovative spirit continue to inspire and shape the future of healthcare for generations to come.

“I would be honored by your vote and the opportunity to continue to serve as Officer-at-Large of the Senior Physician Section of the American Medical Society”

– Michael DellaVecchia