4. Sponsor's Narrative Statement

(Describe nominee's accomplishments and contributions using not less than 50, nor more than 250 words.)

Eric is a collaborative and dynamic leader, making him a great addition to the YPS Governing Council. He has served our section as part of credentials, handbook review, and resolution writing committee; learning from the veteran members of our section while bringing the “recently transitioned to the YPS” voice to every debate. He spent time prior to joining the YPS as the resident member of the American College of Emergency Physician’s Board of Directors. There he expanded resident's involvement in the committee work of the college, and was integral in incorporating the resident voice in every conversation. He showed his ability to share the wisdom of his colleagues and those he represents with those in a position to make the necessary change. He has been an active member of the AMA RFS and YPS for years, learning what it takes to facilitate the connections necessary to lead our section. I hope you will join me in supporting him for the YPS governing council.

5. Candidate's Statement of Interest

(Not less than 50, nor more than 250 words.)

The Young Physician Section has been essential to my own career development. For the past 5+ years, I have been a part of the EM Sectional Delegation, served numerous YPS committees, and worked hard to advance the YPS Section of New York State (now serving as current Chair). I am excited to run for Member at-Large for several reasons.

First, member engagement. As a YPS member, you deserve to have your voices and ideas shared across the AMA. My job is to help propagate your excitement, thoughtful ideas, and creativity to our Section's Governing Council. To feel connected to YPS, we all must have our voices "heard" no matter the issue.

Secondly, communication. With flexibility and time, another goal of mine is to help facilitate more communication across our Section – whether it means organizing more in-person events, online forums, or even social media groups that help with idea-exchange and networking. The pandemic has forced many to feel isolated in their professional careers but we are blessed to have each other for support and energy.

Finally, representation. Over the past year, the YPS has led conversations and collaboration on fighting critical issues like medical disinformation, scope of practice, and burnout. It is important that your feedback is incorporated for reimagining member resources, education, meetings, and operations.

I would be honored to continue to serve and I respectfully ask for your vote. Together, we have the opportunity to make a better, brighter, and more fulfilling 2024.

6. Endorsements

(Are welcome, but not required.)

American College of Emergency Physician (ACEP) – 45,000+ member organization representing Emergency Physicians across the United States and abroad.

Diversity and Demographics

In order to attract the most diverse pool of candidates possible, we request the following self-reported diversity statement and optional demographic information. This information will be used in the internal deliberation of candidates and may be reported in aggregate form only. 7. Candidate's Diversity Statement. Please describe how you will bring diversity to the position for which you are applying.

Dr. Blutinger was born in the Capital (Washington, DC), and raised overseas for a significant portion of his early years (Rome, Italy) - currently a dual-citizen and speaks multiple languages. Erik has worked overseas in many different healthcare settings, particularly underserved ones including hospitals located in South Africa, Guatemala, and Bhutan. After studying in an International High School and receiving his International Baccalaureate degree, Erik worked in the U.S. Senate HELP Committee (Health Policy Office) on President Obama's Affordable Care Act.

Professionally, Dr. Blutinger has a history of learning how health care systems should be reshaped for delivering cost-effective care to those who need it most. He completed a formal Master's degree in Health Policy, Planning, and Financing, a program co-led by the London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine, and the London School of Economics. He chose Emergency Medicine as a specialty so that he could deliver care to every socioeconomic group irrespective of health insurance, ability to pay, nor other economic barriers. Clinically, Dr. Blutinger also works in Queens county - the most linguistically diverse place on earth and one of the most ethnically diverse counties in the United States. He also leads the Community Paramedicine for the largest integrated healthcare system in New York City (Mount Sinai) so that he can explore novel ways for delivering virtual and home care services to disadvantaged populations across a sprawling urban landscape. Erik believes strongly in diversity and inclusion, holding a track record of really making a difference in this area.
